

Four ceramic mugs are displayed in a row on a light gray surface against a white background. Each mug features a unique abstract design. The first mug on the left has a white upper half and a lower half with swirling brown and tan patterns. The second mug has a white upper half and a lower half with swirling blue and white patterns. The third mug has a white upper half and a lower half with swirling blue, white, and tan patterns. The fourth mug on the right has a white upper half and a lower half with swirling yellow and white patterns. The designs are reminiscent of natural elements like waves, clouds, or marbled stone.
